LITTLE PRINTS.

McClellan leads in Wall Paper.

A little scrapping matinee took place at the narrow gauge depot yesterday morning. A black eye and a bloody mouth were the results.

Cole's circus will pass through Sedalia Sunday, on the Pacific, en route to Kansas City, where its canvas will be spread to-morrow.

Eight soldiers passed through the city yesterday. They were from company B, Jefferson barracks, and were en route to Ft. Stanton, New Mexico.

The late Augustus Schell's will divides $20,000 among charitable institutions, but gives the remainder of his estate to relatives.—Exchange.

He should have remembered Schell City, Mo., munificently, as the town was named for him as a compliment and to perpetuate his memory.

Some person who had very little to do, poisoned the little dog belonging to the little daughter of Mr. Loomin at the Jay Gould hotel. The little girl is nearly heartbroken over the loss of her pet.

A FEW WORDS

Regarding the Job Printing and Book Binding Department of the "Bazoo."

To the old residents of this city it is unnecessary to direct attention to the excellent and complete facilities of the establishment in the above named branches of the art typographic. In these two departments they well know that the BAZOO has been tried and tested to the abundant satisfaction of a host of patrons. But to the large number of new comers to this city and section it will be imparting information of interest to state that this paper justly boasts one of the largest, best equipped, and most completely furnished job printing offices in the entire state, and also one of the best and biggest book binderies. Each branch of the business is in charge of skilled, careful and painstaking superintendents, who have each a force of competent workmen. The best evidence of the favor and regard in which these departments are held by business firms and the public generally, is the fact that a generous and abundant patronage continues to be extended to these branches of the BAZOO's business. The steadily increasing orders received from near and distant points have made it necessary to procure additional material to meet the advancing demands of the business. The BAZOO is prepared to do all kinds of job printing and book-binding promptly and in the best style. Prices will be found reasonable, and those desiring any work in the above branches are invited to call and leave their orders, or send them by mail. Poster work, and printing of premium lists and posters for fair associations, a specialty.

Died.

At the residence of Mr. B. Scott, corner of Fifth and Vermont, at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, Mrs. Mary Hanlan, aged 70 years. The funeral services will be held at the house this morning at 9 o'clock. Rev. D. C. Brown officiating, after which the funeral cortege will proceed to Longwood, where the remains will be interred.

If the city will not fairly boom with the electric light, a wire screen factory, a creamery, a sewing machine factory, and other evidences of genuine manufacturing industry?

ON THE TRACK.

Items of Local Interest for the Knights of the Link, Pin and Punch.

—The trains were all on time yesterday. —Engineers and conductors report lively times on the road.

—W. H. Hartman, of Moberly, was in the city last night.

—Road engine No. 381 has been turned into a switch engine.

—Frank Mason, an old time Wabash engineer, was in the city yesterday.

—K. & P. engine No. 65 was taken into the shops yesterday to have her cylinders repaired.

—The Brotherhood of Firemen of Parsons gave a grand ball Friday night, which was an electric success.

—The stalls at the round house were all full yesterday. It has been some time since this happened before.

—W. R. McElroy, conductor on the north end, will leave for Iowa this morning, to visit his father who is dangerously ill.

—M. L. Parker and wife, of Moberly, were in the city last night. Mr. Parker is chief train dispatcher of the K. & T. road, with headquarters at Moberly.

—H. N. Garland, western passenger agent of the Gould lines, has materially improved in health. He will remain at Hot Springs about three weeks longer.

—The Missouri Pacific and K. & T. shops were shut down yesterday and the boys were given a chance to take in the town. This they will do every Saturday.

—General Passenger Agent H. C. Townsend, of the Gould line, who has been at Hot Springs for his health, is greatly improved, and will resume his duties Monday.

—Louis H. Heman, of the Union depot of the Missouri Pacific railroad, has lost his bright little daughter of 2 years. She died of croup. He has the sympathy of a large circle of friends.—Globe-Democrat.

—The man Hughes, of Cass county, arrested several days ago for obtaining money by check on a bank in which he had no funds, was arraigned before Justice Riffe yesterday, and the case dismissed, Hughes agreeing to pay back the $15 he had received on the bogus check.

—The Wabash yesterday issued a circular giving the rules governing the billing of household goods, supplies, etc., when consigned to employees of the company. All such articles take half rates, except in certain cases, like the removal of a section foreman in the interest of the company, when they are transported free.

—The Waco, Texas, Examiner thus speaks of the earnings of the Gould system of railroads in Texas, under the passenger rate of three cents per mile: "A comparison of the passenger traffic of 1882 and 1883 shows that the profits from it have not been reduced by the three cent per mile act. In 1882 the International & Texas Pacific carried 878,950 passengers; in 1883, 1,338,198, for which they received in 1882, $1,875,228, and in 1883, $2,392,991, a clear gain of $517,763, or an increase of 18 per cent, while the increase of freight earnings has only been 12 per cent. Freight have been untouched by legislative action, passenger traffic have been reduced, and yet passenger earnings have an increase of 5 per cent. greater than freight's, making everything in favor of low rates.

LOOKING FOR A LEVER.

"I say," said a railroad brakeman, running into a depot restaurant, "the forward trucks of my car have slipped off the rails. Have you got a piece of iron anywhere about that we could use for a lever?"

"I don't believe I have," replied the proprietor.

"What's this?" asked the brakeman, trying to lever something from the counter.

"That's a piece of cake."

"Well, I guess it will do if it isn't too brittle. I will bring it back in a minute."
